

West Multnomah Soil & Water Conservation District &
Audubon Society of Portland

Bird Nest Workshop

Audubon's Heron Hall
5151 NW Cornell Road, Portland
Wednesday, November 18, 6-8:00 p.m.

Are your backyard birds ready for the chilly weather ahead?
Is there anything you can do to help them stay safe?
Yes and we can show you how!

West Multnomah Soil & Water Conservation District is holding a free workshop featuring
Charlotte Corkran, author of *Birds in Nest Boxes:
How to Help, Study and Enjoy Birds When Snags Are Scarce.

Charlotte will talk about local birds, why they need nests, what kind of nests to build and where to place them in your landscape.
And, every participant will receive a free bird nest box to take home.

Registration is not required. For more information, contact Mary Logalbo at 503.238.4775, ext. 103, or mary@wmswcd.org.
